12 Carmel Valley organizations joining in plans for big Fiesta de los Amigos

Carmel Valley Postmaster Sam Brandt, chairman of the 1967 "Fiesta de los Amigos," has plans well under way for the Labor Day weekend event.

Sam has the assistance of a group of leading Valley citizens and almost every civic, church and social group in the Valley is cooperating with the Fiesta program.

Last year's Fiesta held at the Holman Ranch, was sponsored by the CV Women's Club. It revived the celebration that was given in the Village in 1949. It proved to be so successful that it was decided to hold it annually.

Sam Brandt acted as master of ceremonies at the original Fiesta and served in the same capacity last year. This year he agreed to serve as chairman of the event. He is being assisted by Mrs. William Norton, with Mrs. Harvey Deal as secretary, Tom Hefling, treasurer, Rex Pryer, legal advisor and Dr. Ed Marcucci, parade chairman, assisted by Tom Verga.

FIESTA LOCATIONS

This year's Fiesta, Sept. 2 and 3, will be held in the Village, where Del Fino Place will be roped off and booths set up.

It has been planned to coincide with the annual Trail and Saddle Club Horse Show which will start at 9 a.m. on both Saturday and Sunday at the T & S grounds on Garzas Rd., so that Valley visitors will have two days of entertainment.

Current plans developed by Valley organizations include a noon parade which will start about Blue Sky Lodge and continue through the Village and end at the Fiesta grounds on Del Fino Place.

The "Art-in-Action" exhibit will be held under the oaks by White Oaks Inn from noon to 5 p.m. The Fiesta booths featuring food, wine tasting, children's entertainment, and adult entertainment, will be open until 5 p.m. and a street dance will be held on Del Fino Place from 9 to 1 a.m.

BOOTHS

Representatives of the many organizations cooperating have reported the following plans: Carmel Valley Youth Organization will sponsor children's games and food booths in a special children's area north of the Plaza Linda building; Mrs. Harvey Deal, representative. Lionettes will sponsor Antique Hat Show in Tularcitos Multipurpose room, children's train ride and fishing pond, and pizza to be sold at the street dance;

Fiesta meeting set

Fiesta de los Amigos Chairman Sam Brandt has called a general meeting for representatives of all participating organizations for Aug. 7, Monday noon, at the Casa Carmela.

Luncheon reservations should be made by Aug. 4 at 659-2569 or 659-4547.

A CONTINUOUS PROGRAM of free entertainment by local residents will be presented to delight the Fiesta-goer. Gladys Zarazua performed her Spanish dance, "Paso Robles," during last year's Fiesta, adding appropriate atmosphere to the celebration.

Mrs. Mark Hattan, representative. Libations by CV Lions; Col. Carl Maier, representative. Prizes for best beard and Village store decorations, sponsorship of Fiesta promotions, CV Chamber of Commerce; Ken Van Hagen, rep.

"Old Time" Ice Cream Parlor and Fiesta hosts, St. Dunstan's Church; Mrs. Philip Walker, rep. Fiesta souvenirs booth and publicity, White Oaks Theatre Guild; Margo Doolin, rep. Wine, cracker and fine cheese tasting booth and evening street dancing will be sponsored by the CV Women's Club; Elizabeth Hoisington, rep. Tiburcio Vasquez Beard Contest and Fiesta street signs, CV Fire Dept.; Chip Collins, rep.

"Art-in-Action" booths, "Meet the authors" at Thunderbird Shop, Amateur art show, local artists and writers; Mrs. Rex Pryer, rep. Twelfth annual Trail and Saddle Club Horse Show, T & S Club sponsors; Bob Angell, rep. Cake and coffee and garden booth will be sponsored by CV Garden Club; Mrs. Irwin T. Johnson.

Hamburgers and hot dogs will be provided by the Ladies Auxiliary of the CV Fire Dept; Mrs. Erasimo Belleci, rep. Little League will sponsor another donkey baseball game; Ken Van Hagen, rep.

Benefits from the booths will be shared with 50% going to the sponsoring organization and 50% to the Fiesta Fund for youth activities.

Any person or organization interested in participating may contact chairman Sam Brandt at the post office.

Final school budget up for approval at next board meet

A public hearing on the 1967-68 final budget for the Carmel Unified School District is the major item on the agenda for next Wednesday's board meeting (Aug. 2). The actual hearing will begin at 8:15 in Brey Hall of Carmel High School, with the board meeting at 7:30 to discuss routine business.

The proposed 1967-68 budget including reserves, is 19.2% higher than the 1966-67 adopted budget. There is building reserve fund of $95,460 left over from the sale of Sunset

School which must go for capital expenditure.

The .37 additional override tax increased the tax rate by 11.19% over 1966-67. Although the utility assessment figures for the district are not complete, the figures for the balance of the assessed valuation are known with an increase of 12.7% over the previous year.

Summary of the expenditures in the new proposed budget, broken down into sections, compares the 1966-67 adopted budget with the 1967-68 budget.

Community Center Drainage zone to weigh changes proposed here

Carmel Valley Community Center Board will hold an open general membership meeting tomorrow night, July 27, at 8 p.m. in the Center on Ford Rd.

The purpose of the meeting is to vote on changes in the articles of incorporation and Community Center members are urged to attend.

The changes have been suggested by attorney Mark Starr to help improve the status of the non-profit corporation which runs the Community building and pool.

The lease-building agreement with the Carmel Valley Youth Organization will be another important topic on the agenda. The CVYO received a grant from the Crosby Foundation to build an addition to the Community Center Building. Terms of the administration of this agreement are under discussion by the joint boards.

County Counsel William Stoffers told the Board of Supervisors last week that the most practical approach to solving drainage problems in Carmel Valley would be to form a local zone of the County Water Conservation and Flood Control District.

Stoffers commented that a committee should be formed in the Valley to "see what they want to do... if anything."

He raised the question of whether the people would be willing to pay for the flood control district which would have the power to levy taxes.

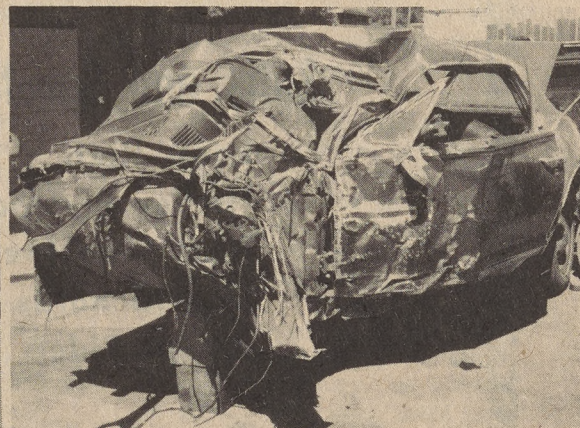

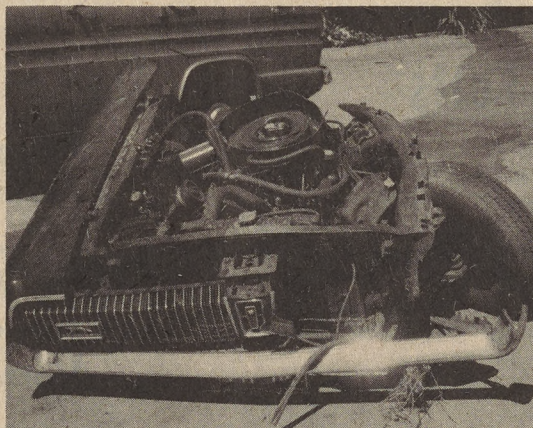

Formation of a committee to study the possibility will probably be set up, according to Valley supervisor Willard Branson.

Attention was originally focused on the matter when the problem of drainage from the Carmel Views subdivision near the mouth of the Valley came before the board.

80 sign for gas

Eighty property owners have signed for natural gas in upper Carmel Valley and 360 have indicated interest, L.A. Van Bibber of PG&E told CV Kiwanians last week. PG&E still hopes to sign the 395 needed to start construction in August.

Impact cuts car in two, driver survives

It's difficult to believe that the driver of the pictured car, split into two sections, could get out of it alive.

The impact of the crash tore off both shoes and socks of the driver, John Beck, a waiter at Rippling River Resort. However, John, who is 19, suffered only a broken leg and facial cuts.

The accident occurred in the early morning hours of July 19, when Beck was returning to his room at Rippling River. He fell asleep and hit two trees across from the Cruickshank residence on Carmel Valley Rd. He was thrown out of the car when it split in two. One portion ended up on one side of the road and the other on the road itself. John was lying in the middle of the highway, according to the first aid crew. He is being released from the hospital today.

Swim Jamboree to mark end of first CV Pool session

The Swim Jamboree marking the completion of the first session of swimming lessons at Carmel Valley pool will be held on Friday, Aug. 4, at 10 a.m. Two of the four savings bonds which have been donated will be awarded at that time to the outstanding boy and girl in life saving class.

200 Valley youngsters will compete and demonstrate swimming, diving and life saving skills.

The beginners, intermediate and advanced swimmers, divers and life saving classes will compete for first, second and third place ribbons in races, relays, etc.

Parents and interested friends are invited to come and see what the children have learned in the past four and a half week swim session.

The snack bar will be open.

Additional swimming pool news is that a number of adults are swimming on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Ken White, pool director, said that many families are bringing coffee and dessert and having it on the deck at the pool. Anyone interested may come at the regular swim prices of family pass or 65¢ for a single adult swim.

Proposed Assoc. of County govts.
to be aired

A public meeting has been set for Tuesday, Aug. 1, at 11:15 a.m. to discuss the formation of the Association of Monterey County Governments.

To be held in Salinas at the Board of Supervisors' chambers, the hearing grew out of a proposal from the group to screen requests for federal grants under the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The proposed association would determine policy on requests for federal aid in projects such as sewage disposal, flood control, development of open space and public transportation.

A number of persons were present to voice opinions and supervisors' reactions were varied.

Carmel Valley Supervisor Willard T. Branson stated that many of his constituents were opposed to the association. Warren Church also stressed his opinion that there had to be guarantees for the unincorporated parts of the county since they would not have governing bodies such as city councils to be representatives.

Although the first draft of the association agreement indicated that it would be voluntary, and have no taxing powers, Supervisor Branson questioned this since the participating members would bear the expenses of the association.

He questioned where this money would come from if not from taxes.

Supervisor Andy Anderson said that he thought the local governments had handled matters such as these efficiently in the past, but if this is what was necessary in order for those who need it to qualify for federal funds, then this is what we have to do.

Supervisor Arthur Atteridge of Salinas did not feel there was any danger in becoming overrun by federal control and noted that Pebble Beach is looking for federal help with their own sewage disposal problems.

A majority of those opposing the formation of the Association of Monterey County Governments contend that it cuts down on the local control and encourages more federal control over local projects, such as water and sewage facilities, public transportation, and development of open space which could in part be financed by federal grants.

EDITORIAL

CV Plan is model

The reputation of the Carmel Valley Master Plan has spread as a model for others to study and follow. Its story was told recently by local realtor Nancy Strathmeyer at a meeting of property owners in beautiful Nicasio Valley, Marin County.

Their unspoiled valley is about to be invaded by two freeways. Its leaders and the progressive Marin County Planning Dept. realize the urgency of preparing for development which will follow with a rush.

The chief of landscaping of the Marin planning department had prepared for the meeting by visiting Carmel Valley and taking photographs of ugly hillside cuts and fills and soil erosion. Although the Nicasio Valley group plans to copy the CV Master Plan in general, the aim is also to improve it and learn from our mistakes.

Carmel Valley Village was held up as an example for charm and quaintness. This is understandable, considering the conglomerate developments with excess of neon signs in many spots in otherwise lovely Marin County.

The Nicasio Valley property owners' group has secured a grant from the "America Beautiful Foundation" to study preservation and ecology of the plant life of the area in the face of development. How to reseed and replant after cuts, to restore the natural environment as much as possible, is an aim of the study.

Mrs. Strathmeyer commented that undergrounding our ugly power poles is the greatest esthetic need in Carmel Valley. She suggests the possibility that the Valley might be made a pilot project for burying power lines.

The Nicasio Valley group has the full cooperation of a large Marin County Planning Department with a highly trained staff. It includes an advance planning section and four staff members who are graduate architects with master's degrees in planning.

In the beginning, it was the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association which hired and paid a private professional planning firm to draw up a master plan.

Organization of CVPOA was sparked back in 1947 by concern following approval of Carmel Valley Inn. Bill Woods was its first president. Later, because of its broad sweeps of surrounding lawns and meadows, Carmel Valley Inn was held up as a model.

In 1954 the county approved the Carmel Valley Master Plan which the planning consultants of Hahn, Wise Associates had drawn up for CVPOA. Precise zoning was worked out by a local committee with the advice of the planning consultants and adopted in 1956.

To CVPOA goes most of the credit for saving Carmel Valley from strip commercial development. The Valley Master Plan with one-acre zoning, followed by designation of commercial and other zoning were invaluable beauty-saving guides.

Most developers have gone along willingly with this desire of the majority. And such developments as the new Carmel Valley Shopping Center in Mid-Valley have set an unusually handsome example for others to follow.

Now with hillside development accelerating, adoption of a workable slope-density formula is next in the important conservation-guides for Carmel Valley.

PERSPECTIVE

IN SHORT

The Rhyming Philosopher

When knights in armor vied in fun and deed,
And kings and queens wore crowns instead of bonnets,
Courts poets sang of jousts at Runnymede
And earned their bread and butter writing sonnets.
Now fourteen lines can cramp the style of poets,
Who seek to praise their lords in cadent measure,
Or publicize the castle's wily ghost
While flirting with the local maid of pleasure.
But modern poets have no prince to please,
No patron duke to furnish food and quarters,
So sadly toil to earn their blintz and cheese
And write their odes to someone else's daughters.

Which proves while well-kept ducks have pools to swim in Us wild ones choose our beds and pick our women.

This added tercet now we must invent
To give our sonnet six more lines of thunder,
Recalling how Sir Launcelot's lusty scent
Pursued King Arthur's Guinevere and won her.
One cautious note: Confine your deed to sonnet
Before your nose gets someone's fist upon it.

THE FISH and Game Department is about to undertake the care and feeding of sea otters. The increasing sea otter herd which lives in the Sea Otter Refuge along the coast from the Carmel River to Northern San Luis Obispo County has been migrating southward and encroaching on the major abalone producing areas. In addition, they are leaving the protection of the refuge.

So the Department of Fish and Game and the abalone industries will cooperate in the feeding program and let the sea otters feast on the trimmings from the abalone caught for commercial use...but try to keep them north...up here!

The Doctor says:

Adult diabetes is killer

(Write or phone your health questions to Dr. James Short, 103 Robles del Rio, Carmel Valley; telephone 659-4223.)

Diabetes in the United States ranks about 25% higher than motor vehicle accidents as a cause of death. There are several million cases, many of which are undiscovered. Only about 5% begin in early life. These are known as the "juvenile onset" type. The great majority begin after age 40 and reach the peak between fifty and seventy years of age. The onset is preceded by overweight in about 80% of cases. Although diabetes is conceded to be of hereditary origin the factor of overweight usually triggers its development. The insurance statisticians have told us that diabetes increases with age only in the obese. Therefore if we would offset a diabetic tendency inherited from our ancestry we should try in every way to eliminate the factor of overweight. In fact, to control the weight is the only known means of preventing the onset of diabetes.

Diabetes usually manifests itself by excessive thirst, a large daily output of urine and often by loss of weight. These symptoms are frequently accompanied by lassitude and weakness or chronic infections which may take the patient to the doctor. The presence of sugar in the urine, together with a high blood sugar and other laboratory tests establishes the diagnosis.

The course of the disease may be mild or severe. In general the obese late-onset type is relatively mild. However, there is a great predisposition to complications of the heart and blood vessel system. If the disease is not well controlled these complications are almost bound to ensue. Arteriosclerosis is coronary heart disease, kidney complications and strokes are some of the many chronic impairments which usually develop in the uncontrolled case. An acute complication is diabetic acidosis with coma, which may develop if the patient is completely out of control, and may result in sudden death.

What should be your attitude toward this condition if you have been found to have it? In the first place, don't panic and don't get discouraged. Some forty years ago the life expectation for those who had diabetes was quite low. In the pre-insulin days the condition was not well understood and there was no means of control except by diet and exercise. Today we have a better understanding of the condition, true pancreatic insulin, and the synthetic so-called "oral insulins." The latter are not insulins at all but are chemical substances which have been found to improve the insulin function within the body and to keep the blood sugar level within fairly normal limits. With weight reduction and a properly adjusted diet, many of the milder cases of diabetes can be easily controlled without either insulin or the chemical agents. In fact, it is said that only 25% of all diabetics require insulin by injection today. True insulin, by the way, can be given only by injection and this causes many patients to neglect proper treatment. They just don't like to be stuck by a needle, especially when that has to be done daily.

Some years ago I had a middle-aged male patient with diabetes. I brought his condition under control, gave him explicit directions as to diet and insulin treatment, and told him to report a second time. He failed to do so. Shortly after, I received word that he was in the hospital in coma. Prompt and heroic measures brought him around in a few days. What happened? He had been rebellious and said he'd be hanged if was going to be tied to a diet and an insulin syringe. After this acute episode, however, he took a more rational view of his condition and decided to cooperate. Diabetes cannot be neglected with impunity.

The late Dr. Elliott P. Joslin of Boston devoted his entire professional life to the study of diabetes. His clinic was world-famous. Was this not a rather narrow field when there is so much to be learned in the entire scope of medicine? On the contrary. The study of diabetes has opened up more avenues in medical science than any other disease. Knowledge of endocrinology, body chemistry and metabolic pathways have been greatly advanced by the intensive study of this one disease. Because of the many facts of this disorder, only those who are specially trained and interested in diabetes should undertake its management.

Diabetes is not so bad. Someone has well said that if one wishes to live a long time he should get diabetes—and take care of it.

Pacific Grove lights up to celebrate Feast of Lanterns

Sheri Turrentine, Queen Topaz of the Pacific Grove Feast of Lanterns, will start off the festivities tomorrow (Thursday) at 9:30 a.m. with a ribbon cutting ceremony at Holman's Department Store. This will be followed by the cake cutting ceremony celebrating Pacific Grove's 92nd birthday.

Through the day on Thursday there will be events including a pet parade on Lighthouse Ave. at 1:30 and ending with a variety program at Canterbury Woods at 8 p.m.

Pacific Grove's new Community Center will be dedicated at 2 p.m. on Friday, a band concert will be held at 6:30 at Lighthouse and Cypress Aves.

and there will be street dancing following at 7 p.m.

On all days exhibits at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History, the P.G. Library and the Bank of America will open at 10 a.m.

A swim demonstration will take place at the PG pool at 1:30 on Saturday. Street dancing will begin at 7 p.m. with the Feast of Lanterns folk dancers in costumes of all nations.

The festivities centering around the beach will begin at 7:30 with a Sing Out Monterey concert. The procession of costumed people carrying lighted lanterns will begin at 8, from performance followed by a band Lighthouse Ave. to the beach. Queen Topaz will be crowned at 8:30.

At 9 p.m. the lantern-lighted boats will leave Monterey Marina for Pacific Grove and at 9:30 the aerial fireworks display will begin as the flotilla circles the harbor.

At noon on Sunday the sailboat races will begin from Lover's Point. At 1:30 there will be the Cubmobile Soap Box Derby at George Washington Park

(Pine Ave. at Alder St.)

A skin divers' treasure hunt will begin at the beach at 2 p.m. with Queez Topaz and her princesses awarding trophies at 3.

The four-day celebration will end with a vocal and pipe organ concert at the First Methodist Church on Sunset Dr. at 4 p.m.

The tradition of the annual Feast of Lanterns was begun in the early days of Pacific Grove when it was a church retreat. The participants joined in a lantern-lit parade to the beach as a climax to the summer gathering.

Will Fay, the guiding hand at "Will's Fargo Restaurant" has always been connected with the food business.

Will recalls starting in at 13 at his aunt and uncle's soda fountain in Modesto and then going on to work the resorts in Pinecrest as a young man.

He grew up in Sonora and Pinecrest and during these years developed a love for the Victorian decor, antique furniture and bric-a-brac.

These are ideas which went into the planning and decoration of Will's Fargo when it was undergoing remodeling in 1958.

When he was in grammar school, Will designed his first eating place, the plans of which his mother still has. It started out as an idea for a hamburger stand and quickly grew into a full-fledged restaurant. Will says his mother found him working on them all the time when he was supposed to be studying.

Will's background prior to opening his Valley restaurant included work at the Orinda Country Club, a brief sojourn in the purchasing department of the Sir Francis Drake and four years in the Navy.

Immediately before moving

WILL FAY

to Carmel Valley, he and Mandy Webb owned Le Boeuf Restaurant in San Francisco for two and a half years.

They used to come to the Peninsula on weekends and stayed with Bert and Margaret Dienelt, friends who owned the Mission Ranch and the restaurant in the Valley known as The Carousel. When The Carousel became available, Will and Mandy sold Le Boeuf and became the owners of the Valley landmark.

They took three months to remodel while Will searched junk shops, wrecking yards and antique shops for the many accessories that fill the building with atmosphere. When it first opened in 1959, however, Will says the walls were a great deal barer than they are today. People started getting the idea of the Victorian clutter and they began bringing and sending things to him.

Will's Fargo has a unique way of ordering and a uniquely limited menu which has become famous for miles around. Steak is the byword and patrons choose their own, have it cut just as they wish and pay by the ounce. Chicken, lobster and abalone are also available. This fact is posted on the big poster by the meat counter, since Will uses no menus at the table.

Last Saturday, Will Fay celebrated his tenth year of being a local resident. During this time, he has built up a loyal clientele of customers who invariably end up becoming friends. He personally greets everyone who comes in and rarely forgets a name.

Over the years he has welcomed restaurant patrons from all over the world, but he particularly remembers one call for reservations from a friend who lived on the East Coast.

He picked up the phone to take the order for a table for two for the next night and said, "Hey! Good to hear from you... where are you... San Francisco?"

The answer was, "No, we're at home in Washington, D.C., but just thought we'd fly out and have dinner with you tomorrow night!"

US Indian art at Pacific Grove Museum

THIS HOPI INDIAN kachina doll is one of many on display at the Museum of Natural History in Pacific Grove through July 30. It is the work of Henry Shelton, an eminent Hopi Indian kachina carver who is employed by the Museum of Northern Arizona at Flagstaff. Sharing the exhibit with the kachinas are paintings by Raymond Naha, a noted Hopi artist and Beaton Yazz, a Navajo book illustrator and painter.

R.E. Adelmeyer

home damaged in $10,000 blaze

An estimated $10,000 damage was caused to the residence of Raymond E. Adelmeyer at 53 La Rancheria in a fire which started near a paint storage locker.

Sid Knight, who was working nearby on Tuesday afternoon, heard a loud explosion and found the house in flames.

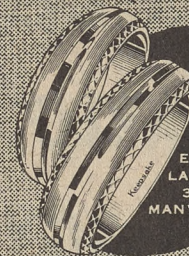

Four trucks, plus 12 Valley firemen and one Carmel fireman responded to the blaze which was raging when they arrived.

Damage was confined to the dining room and kitchen areas with little or no smoke damage to the remainder of the house.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

Carmel Cultural Commissioner

Pruitt promotes more use for Forest Theatre

JAMES PRUITT

James Pruitt of Comstock Associates first became acquainted with the Carmel area when his family stayed with their uncle, Joe Briggs, while Pruitt was with the U.S. Navy during World War II. Returning here, he met Hugh Comstock and decided to stay here.

Pruitt is an architect who was raised in Pennsylvania and came to the Peninsula from Pittsburgh, although he had lived most of the time or near Philadelphia.

He and his wife "Mike" (her name is really Clarice, but her maiden name was Michaels) live in Carmel Woods on Guadalupe St. in a house they have owned for 13 years.

During the time when their son Jim was growing up, Pruitt was educated at Penn State. He served on the board of the Carmel Youth Center and worked with Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts. Jim recently married Linda Roberts of Carmel Valley and they are now living in Austin, Tex.

He has served on the Cultural Commission for several years and is also a member of the Sanitary Commission for the Carmel Sanitation District, taking Hugh Comstock's place 11 years ago. This commission is a governmental and policy making board that sets budget and is responsible for running the sanitation plant.

Councilman Herb Blanks appointed Pruitt to the Sunset Commission two years ago and he continued to serve as a member of the Carmel Cultural Commission when the Art and Sunset Commissions were merged earlier this year. His function, primarily, is one of planning for maintenance and building, using reason to keep the structures in good condition within the budget. Presently the main job is maintenance with no new construction in the offing.

One phase of the planning is to develop more use of the Forest Theatre which is hard to keep in repair with limited occupancy. He hopes to guide the Carmel elementary school system into more extensive use of the Forest Theatre as a headquarters with support from University of California at Santa Cruz helping to provide Sunset Center with fresh talent.

THREE ROMANCES will be told in dance on the big outdoor stage of the Forest Theater Sunday. With tall redwoods for a backdrop, the company of the Dancing Troubadours of which Dianne Brock, above, is a member, will present ballets directed by former Carmel Valleyite, Angene Feves.

Distinguished ballet at Forest Theatre Sunday

Distinguished ballet comes to Carmel's Forest Theater next Sunday afternoon, July 30, when the "Dancing Troubadours," headed by the noted ballerina, Angene Feves, appear on its great outdoor stage. The program begins at 2 p.m. and admission is free.

Angene Feves, former Carmel Valley resident, is currently director of the Richmond Ballet Company, as well as head of the touring Troubadour group.

Other members of the Troubadour company are Arthur Conrad, Ronn Guidi, Dianne Brock, Anita Paciotti, Juliana Sakowsky, Tom Borek, and Gene Annarino. Besides appearing in a wide range of dance roles, Guidi has served as general director of the Oakland Civic Ballet, for which Conrad has appeared as principal character dancer and Miss Brock and Miss Paciotti have performed as soloists. Miss Sakowsky has appeared with both the San Francisco and the Los Angeles Opera Ballets.

Principal works to be given will be a new ballet, "Three Romances," and the familiar "Danse Macabre." "Three Romances" was premiered in San Francisco last year. Its three themes are taken from Rabindranath Tagore's "Fireflies," and its music derives from the works of Mozart and Beethoven, with choreography by Miss Feves. Also to be produced is an entirely new ballet, "Abraham and Isaac."

The program is sponsored by the City of Carmel, and is presented with the cooperation of the Carmel Cultural Commission and its director, Cole Weston. It is under the direction of a special committee composed of former city arts commissioners Barbara Norberg, Mautsita Jennings, and Joseph Danys.

The following Sunday afternoon (Aug. 6), chamber music will be featured at the Forest Theater, when the Beyer String Trio returns for the third summer to perform there. Guest artists who will appear with the Beyer Trio are pianists Wade Parks and Fred Schaad.

The city-owned Forest Theater is located at Mountain View and Santa Rita streets in Carmel.

Local students win MPC honor

Seven students from Carmel and the Valley were listed among the 14 to win Monterey Peninsula College "Highest Honors" with 4.0 (straight A grade point average).

They are Jonathan Elber, Lynden Mahrt, John Sprung and Joseph Zoellin of Carmel; Lisa Buchenroth, Nadine Davis and Patricia Langford of Carmel Valley.

Carmel and Valley students winning "high honors" with grade point averages of from 3.5 to 3.99 are Charles Baltz, Kathleen Comings, Eunice Feeke, John McGrath, Sterling Phillips and Walter Pilot.

Carmel and Valley "honor" students with grade point averages from 3.0 to 3.49 are Margaret R. Alvarez, Thomas G. Arnold, Maryann Brickner, Helga G. Burch, Polly Campbell, Melinda Colvin, Suzanne DeAtley, Holly Garcia, Timothy Head, Jonathan McCaman, John Morrice, Alexander Phillips, David Schetter, Huu Phuc Trinh, Martha Townsend, Mary Weatherford and Dale Zehner.

James Cecka, Marilyn Desilva, Terry Gardner, Kenneth Korver, Jay Lambert, Anne Mewhirter, Jo Ann Miller, Richard Pryor, John Warming-ton.

Basilica is setting for concert

THE BACH FESTIVAL'S traditional Wednesday evening performance at Carmel Mission Basilica is tonight at 10 p.m. The Orchestra, antiphonal choirs and eight soloists will present Cavalli's "Messia Concertata." The lovely setting of the old mission is pictured in this photo from last year when the "Play of Herod" was presented. Tomorrow's concert at Sunset will be Handel's "Saul" oratorio. Friday, Saturday and Sunday last weekend's program will be repeated at the 8:30 concerts at Sunset Auditorium.

Community Church to sponsor Bible School for youngsters

A summer Bible School will begin at the inter-denominational Community Church on July 31 and continue through Aug. 12.

Dr. Ed Arana is in charge of plans for the school which accepts youngsters from kindergarten through sixth grade.

The purpose of the classes is to relate the teachings and morals of the Bible, Old Testament, Grimm's Fairy Tales and Aesop's Fables directly to the child.

Youngsters will arrive at the church at 8:20 with the main lesson from 8:30 to 10 a.m. At 10 there will be a snack. Closing prayer will be at 12:30.

Registration forms may be obtained at the church office on Carmel Valley Rd., 9/10 of a mile from the entrance to Carmel Valley. For further information call 624-8595.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

The 51st wedding anniversary was the happy occasion for a surprise party planned at the Carmel Valley Inn by Mr. and Mrs. John Dryden honoring Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Radford of Miramonte Rd. Guests were seated at a table covered with a golden cloth. Cuning miniature china clowns held the place cards. The centerpiece was the top of the fruit cake from their Fiftieth celebration last year topped with the numbers 51 and flanked with golden tapers.

The Janucz brothers played a medley of the old sentimental tunes that have remained favorites through the years during the dinner party as the gift of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison to the Radfords. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ned Poorman, Mr. and Mrs. George Mead, Mrs. Ora Todd, Mrs. Doris Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Herman, George T.C. Smith and Fred Merrill.

Just as the swallows come back each year to Capistrano, they arrived once again this year at the Holman Guest Ranch on the Fourth of July but there is a difference. It is the first time since Mr. Holman died five years ago that the flocks have returned. The swallow invasion is centered around the courtyard where each nest built in the beams has its own lookout. The fascinating little feathered friends swoop down to the pond behind the rodeo grounds where they scoop up the mud with which to build their nests to be filled soon with families expected to return on the Fourth of July next year.

Among the "registered" guests last week was Jean Mollskog of San Francisco who is in charge of the Geographical Survey office there. She enjoys her frequent Valley visits from where she commutes to Pebble Beach to ride the beautiful horse "Sandman" who is stabled there

More return guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sabel of Oakland who followed their traditional pattern. While Oscar drives to the bay to go ocean fishing, Marian hikes the surrounding hills.

June and Ken Van Hagen with their children, Vicki and Steven, have returned from vacationing at Lake Tahoe. They stayed at the favorite chalet of Valley residents owned by Jim Large, at Incline Village. In addition to ice skating, tobogganing, and the ski ride at Tahoe, the residents from Paso Hondo drove to Reno, Virginia City, and were guests in Quincy of Ken's parents before returning home.

The prize from the Valley's latest snake hunt was claimed by 12-year-old Anne Erskine when Valley firemen were called to the Country Club Dr. home of Mr. and Mrs. David Erskine to eradicate the repulsive reptile—discovered playing with the Erskine kitten. The rattler measured 2 1/2 feet and produced seven rattles and one button for "Tell and Share Time" when Anne returns to classes in September.

Old-timers are noting that there are more snakes of all kinds in the Valley this year and attribute it to our abundant rainfall. The population was lessened by two recently, thanks to Dead-eye Paul Bresk who has killed two on the patio at their home.

The Valley Bridge Club sponsored their monthly masterpoint tournament Tuesday at the Community Center. Winners in NORTH-SOUTH were Jeff Hudson and David Partridge in first place; Mrs. R.B. Stoney and Mrs. M.L. Stoney in second place; and Jim Lauderdale and Roger Fonesca in third place. In EAST-WEST Tom Bates and his partner, Ray Kunz won first place honors; Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Van Laanen were in second place and third place resulted in a tie between the partnership of Bob Fonesca and Doug Watson and Pete Steffen and John Schuler.

Visiting their grandmother, Irene Baldwin, and their aunt, Miss Marjorie Ibsen, are Jodi and Toni Lucas of Yuma, Ariz. The twins have spent many happy vacations in the Valley and have many friends among the young people. Their current project is their first venture with a sewing machine and with an assist from Mrs. Tracy Williams, will no doubt return to school in Yuma with an extensive fall wardrobe.

At the galleries

RALPH JACOBS

Artist Ralph Jacobs has been selected to show his paintings in an invitational exhibition at the Rosicrucian Museum in San Jose until Aug. 1.

The versatile young artist is the owner of Jacobs Gallery in Carmel Square, San Carlos between 7th and Ocean.

MPC ART

Art work by students in Alex Gonzales' summer drawing and composition class at Monterey Peninsula College is currently on display in the MPC art building Monday through Friday.

Art in action to be feature of Fiesta

Carmel Valley as seen by amateur artists will be the interesting new feature of the popular "Art in Action" art show which will again by part of the Carmel Valley "Fiesta de los Amigos" planned for September 2 in Carmel Valley Village.

This year, amateur artists are invited to submit their works, as long as their subject deals with some phase of Carmel Valley. A one dollar fee will go toward cash prizes for first, second and third place.

Registration must be made by Aug. 25. Forms are available at The Outlook and The Thunderbird Shop in Carmel Valley or by writing or phoning Fiesta art chairman, Mrs. Rex Pryer, Calle de la Paloma, Carmel Valley, phone 659-4153.

The Fiesta de los Amigos will again display work of Carmel Valley's many professional artists, craftsmen, photographers and writers.

COAST GALLERY

"Through the Magic Looking Glass" is the title of the show at the Coast Gallery through July 29. It features shell mosaic mirrors by Douglas Madsen.

ZANTMAN

Peninsula artist S.C. Yuan has a one-man exhibit at the Zantman Galleries through July 26. His paintings have been shown in San Francisco, Boston and New York and local gallery goers have seen his work at the Carmel Art Association. He is also featured in group shows at Zantman's throughout the year.

WATTS AT MPMA

Brilliant watercolors by William Watts (1867-1961), eminent old-time Carmel artist and world adventurer, are presented in a collection of his works loaned from such diverse sources as the Laky Gallery, Carmel Public Library and the Carmel Middle School. Scenes both exotic and familiar are depicted with strong strokes of color. Watts wielded a powerful brush.

EVE TARTAR BROWN

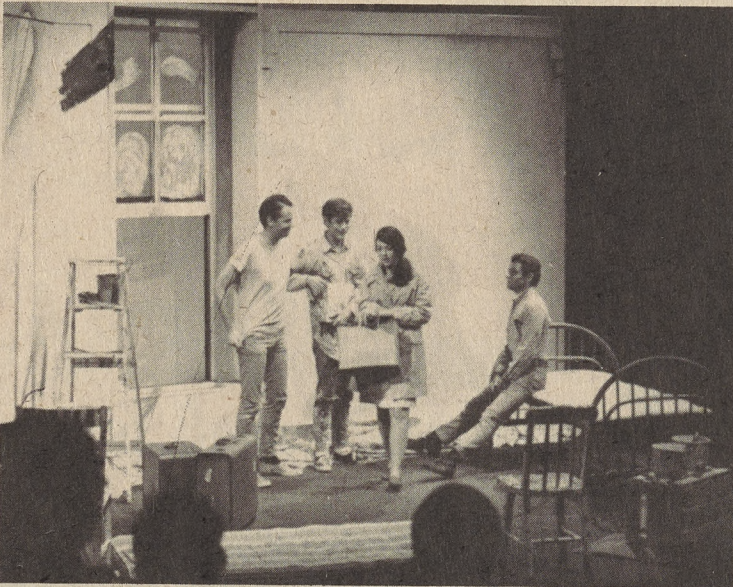

Eve Tartar Brown of Robles del Rio is featured in a show of her sculptures at the Crocker Museum in Sacramento. Thirty-three of Eve's pieces will remain on display in the "first and oldest museum in the West," through Aug. 6.

Most of the sculptures that Eve Tartar Brown has done are in white with occasional black, but in her current show at the Crocker Gallery in Sacramento there are several in zebra wood like the one above. This is called "The Tides," and evokes a rhythm within the wood in addition to form.

LEISURE TIMES

Guild plans parties to back White Oaks, will have booth at Fiesta de los Amigos

"THE KNACK," playing at White Oaks Theatre, brings roars of laughter from the audience. The antics of (left to right) Colin (Dave Wynne), Tom (Ron Stark), Nancy (Katie Russell) and Tolen (Michael Riordan) provide a fast, slightly risqué fare for the theatre-goer. Next performance of "The Knack" is Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

A "Fiesta de los Amigos" booth with colorful Mexican souvenirs on sale and a fashion show luncheon on Aug. 31 at the Holiday Inn are the ambitious plans being laid by the newly organized White Oaks Theatre Guild.

The membership is made up of a nucleus of energetic women with a larger group of supporting but less active members. They back the Carmel Valley non-profit professional training theatre through benefits, promotion and enthusiasm.

Mrs. Thomas Thigpen and Mrs. Clive Rayne will co-chairman the premiere party on Aug. 5, to which all first-nighters will be invited. Mrs. Gilbert Craig is working with Mrs. George Clifford and her committee on the invitational buffet, Aug. 4. Mrs. Jack Lundin has charge of the fashion show while Mrs. Frank Crispo, president of the Guild, will head the Fiesta booth committee.

Miss Margo Doolin was appointed Fiesta publicity chairman by the Guild. Miss Doolin will handle TV and radio and will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas Bottaro with newspaper releases, and by Mrs. Mel Blevens in charge of posters.

Mrs. Crispo will meet with the Guild at her home in La Rancheria at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 2. All interested are invited by Mrs. Crispo who asks to be phoned in advance.

Five shows in Circle repertory; 'Charley's Aunt' opens this week

"Repertory '67" begins its fourth week on Sunday, July 30, with "Charley's Aunt" completing a six-day run. "Hedda Gabler" will be presented on Aug. 1 and 2; "Room Service" on the 3rd and 5th; and "Charley's Aunt" again on the 4th.

The popular farce, "Charley's Aunt," is set in an Oxford College in the 1890's.

"Repertory '67," under the direction of Norman McPhee, also includes "The Subject Was Roses." Stage managers for the series are Wendy Thaler, Margaret Phillips, and Ed Parks.

Costumes for the various plays were designed by Mrs. Robertson, Suzi Gallaher, and Linda Braun. Set designs were planned by Carol McPhee and Derek Napier Lawford. The series is being sponsored by the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula and will continue through Sept. 3.

There is an old saying that if you have an important job to be done ask the busiest person in your community and it will be taken care of... Mrs. Leo Berta certainly qualifies with seven children for the "Busy" title and in addition manages to find space in her day to do numerous jobs for the church, schools, and community. Most people would feel that was contribution enough to the world, but not Mary Lou who enrolled in an intensified reading training program at summer school to qualify herself to assist mothers and teachers with problem readers. If Johnny can't read after taking the 'Berta course,' it certainly won't be because of a lack of dedication of enthusiasm for her new chosen field.

A quirk of fate took the Glen Low family to the high Sierras for a wonderful vacation. Joan, Glen, Mylinda, Glen Jr., Danny and Rory were enroute from El Potrero Rd. to Yellowstone when they encountered car trouble so arrived at Camp Shady Rest in Sequoia. They thoroughly enjoyed the rest, relaxation, and the contrast between swimming in the hot springs at Mammoth Lake and driving the short distance for play in the snow fields.

A swimming party at the home of grandparents highlighted the seventh birthday of Sharon Hogans. Following the fun in the pool at the Poppy Rd. home of Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Kamerer, Sharon and her guests went to her home, 37 Holman Rd., where her mother, Mrs. Nancy Hogans had planned a luncheon served on the deck followed by games.

Assisting with the party plans was Sharon's aunt, Mrs. Ann Hoffman of Plymouth who is visiting her parents and sister while her boys attend summer camp. Enjoying the day were Laurie Petkus, Scarlett Hattan, Seane Walker and Sharon's brother, Jeffrey.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Mrs. Marie Loudat who underwent surgery recently at the Monterey Hospital. Mrs. Loudat is home on Valle Vista with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Waylett and able to receive visitors... and to Mr. Lyn Dickie who is making amazing progress at the Skyline Convalescent Hospital following surgery after a hip was injured in a fall. He, too, would enjoy visitors. The Dickies are hoping that the family luck will change with the approach of a new month.

In June they enjoyed a pleasant visit with their daughter, Jean, her husband and daughter, who have been stationed in Alaska for three years. Enroute to a new assignment from the Valley to the Pentagon, the family's spacious house trailer filled with their belongings was destroyed in an accident near San Bernardino.

Mrs. Frances Carruth of Clarence, N.Y., is a guest at the home of her cousin and husband, Edith and Harry Dean, who make their home on the West Carmel Valley Rd. near the Begonia Gardens.

Mrs. Rex Pryer was hostess at her home on Calle de la Paloma for the monthly benefit bridge and canasta party sponsored by the Chapel Guild of the CV Community Chapel. Sara Oppenheimer was co-hostess for the afternoon enjoyed by 26 players.

Tables were centered with yellow pom poms in brown vases for the dessert hour which followed. Mrs. Daniel Coleman took the prize for high in bridge. Maj. (ret.) Billie Mans placed second. The prize at the canasta table was won by Mrs. Rudolph Ploense.

Camp Cheneya, owned by the Salinas Camp Fire Girls Council in the hills high above Corral de Tierra was attended by a number of Valley Camp Fire Girls who worked on special outdoor rank. Leaving the Community Center at 8 a.m., mothers took turns transporting the girls to four days and one overnight at the camp which gave the girls an opportunity to cook out-of-doors. Following the sleep-out the girls were treated to a swim in the pool at the home of Mrs. Russell McCallion.

Mrs. Robert A. Smith of Salinas was camp director. Mrs. Glen Low of the Valley served among the staff of counsellors. Attendance from the Valley included Becky Sweet, Mylinda Low, Anita Bresk, Peggy Palmer, Mary Ray, Sherrie Rhoades, Heidi Viljeon, Linda Wilson, Marian Doud, Heidi Hattan, Patti Groves, Heather Golden, Albertina Zarazua, Lisa Erskine, Lydia Bresk, Leslie Golden, and Diane Golden.

DUCHESS GOT LEFT when her family moved to Los Angeles. L.A. is no place for a collie anyway; she would much rather stay right here. She is now at the SPCA Animal Shelter, 2099 David, New Monterey, hopefully waiting for a new home.

Duchess is 11 months old and has had a litter of pups which makes her just right to be spayed (according to Mrs. Gwen May who runs the Shelter and knows about such things). She has had experience with small children, too, and so comes well recommended as a baby sitter.

Day students for MPC next fall are urged to apply early to be sure of classes they want Persons who plan to attend Monterey Peninsula College as full-time or part-time day students in the fall are urged to make application for acceptance now to make sure of getting the classes they want. Mrs. Louise White, MPC registrar, has announced.

Application involves applying for admission and providing high school and college transcripts, as well as out-of-district release if necessary. Students will receive a registration appointment for Sept. 6, 7 or 8.

All entering full-time day students and others, day or evening, must take the College Placement Examination on one of the following dates: Aug. 12 or 26 or Sept. 2 at 8 a.m., or Sept. 6 at 6:30 p.m. in the library lecture hall.

In addition each student must present evidence of a recent chest x-ray. Because the County Health Dept. mobile x-ray unit will not be on campus on any of the three September registration days, prospective students are urged to get their x-rays during August. The mobile unit will be at the County Health Office, Aguajito Rd., Monterey, Aug. 3 and 17, 1 to 5 p.m.; at the Safeway Store, Seaside, Aug. 7, 10 a.m. to noon; at the Top Hat Market, Pacific Grove, Aug. 7, 2 to 5 p.m., and at the post office, Carmel, Aug. 8, 1 to 5 p.m. All x-rays are free of charge.

Class schedules listing courses to be offered at MPC in the fall are on sale at the student bookstore on campus. The fall semester begins Sept. 1.

Layman service at Community Chapel

The Laymen of Carmel Valley Community Chapel will be in charge of the 10 a.m. worship service on Sunday, July 30. Robert Beckstrom will lead in Scripture reading and prayer while Don Brill leads the service. Jay Rathbun will preach the morning sermon, entitled, "Help Wanted."

Special music will be sung by the men's chorus made up of Cmdr. Gerry Katzmann, Dr. George Sackman, Dr. Dean A.

Campbell, Fred Scott, Dr. Toland Doud and Seung Park. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Seung Paik Park. Selections are "Men with the Vision," and "Rise Up Men of God."

Ushers will be Ed Capon, Walter Mauzey and David Mathews.

During the month of August, Dr. George Greer, retired Methodist minister, will be the guest speaker.

News from Hacienda Carmel

The Casa Lobos Club, under the direction of President Richard Baumhoff, held its annual meeting at Casa Fiesta on July 20.

A social hour and luncheon preceded the election of officers.

New officers elected for 1967-68 are: Roy Phelan, president; Hal C. Wright, vice president; Kenneth P. House, secretary; and Bruce Stiller, treasurer.

George M. Lowry (Rear Adm. ret.), who recently became a resident of Hacienda Carmel, has contributed one of his Navy mementoes, a 1919 ship's bell to the community. The bell from the USS Meyer, the third destroyer commanded by Adm. Lowry, has been placed near the flag pole in front of Casa Central.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuel (Bob) Sutton recently returned from an extended trip to the United Kingdom and the Channel Islands.

Shortly before their return a friend received a note from Bob saying they had checked in and out of 28 hotels in 29 days. It takes experienced travelers such as the Suttons to handle this kind of schedule.

The Bill Skowrans, who lived for a number of years in the Riviera-style home on the sea-cliff across from the Highlands Inn, have been house-sitting for the present owners while they were on a three months world cruise.

While the Skowrans were enjoying the views and sounds of their former home, they delighted their many friends by entertaining various groups.

The George Salters, who have been on a tour of the Eastern United States, Expo '67, the Gaspe Peninsula and the maritime provinces, have joined friends from Hacienda Carmel at Lake Louise to help the Frank Bakers celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

George has now played at least one golf course in each Canadian province after playing in every state in the U.S. and every country in South America.

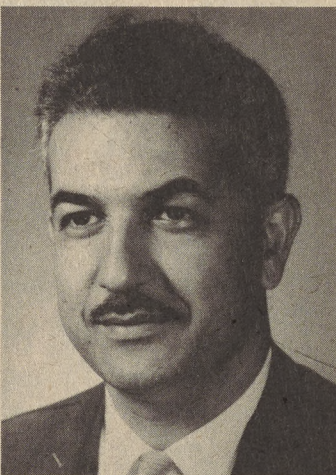

Messrs. and Mmes. Frank Beadle, Paul J. Black, C.P. Hill, and Roy Phelan joined forces recently to vacation at Salashan Lodge in Oregon. Following the get-together, the several couples went their own way... the Beadles to visit their son, the Hills likewise, and the Phelans to Colorado. All are now at home at HC.

The Hal Wrights were pleased to have their old friend and country club associate Aubrey Voden, now of Milwaukee, Wisc., call for a golf game. Mr. Voden, vice president of the Spice Institute, is enroute to San Francisco for a regional meeting of the institute.

Would you believe it? Hacienda Carmel will celebrate its fifth anniversary on Aug. 7. An anniversary party for the residents is scheduled with Mrs. Harold Sutcliffe as chairman. The anniversary party, always a highlight of the year, will be no less an occasion in August, 1967.

Kiwanis hears talk on Israel

CARMEL VALLEY Kiwanis Club was scheduled to hear a talk on the background of the Palestine problem and the aftermath of the recent conflict at its meeting Tuesday at Los Laureles Lodge. The speaker was Samir F. Mansour, who is in charge of the audio-visual aids department of the Naval Postgraduate School. Mansour, himself a Palestinian refugee, born and educated in the Middle East, served for six years as field welfare and adult education officer with the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees. Later he became director of the foreign desk at Lions International.

LT. (j.g.) AND MRS. JOHN AHL

Lt. John Ahl, Catherine Church exchange vows

Catherine Ann Church, daughter of Mrs. Le Church of Crystal City, Mo., became the bride of Lt. (j.g.) John Stuart Ahl, son of Dr. and Mrs. B.N. Ahl of Carmel Valley, on the first of July. The evening wedding took place in the Grace Presbyterian Church in Crystal City.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Donald Megahan. The bride's uncle, Theo Church, presented her in marriage.

Mrs. Mary Herrel of Imperial, Mo., sister of the bride, was matron of honor with Misses Shelley Hughes, Gloria Shamoun and Beverly Sweet serving as bridesmaids.

George Pollock of Fullerton, Calif., served as Lt. Ahl's best man, with Phil Palmatier, Gene Herrel, Louie Church and Tucker Ausman acting as ushers.

The bride's gown was of Alencon lace and silk with a sculptured neckline. The crushed cummerbund was caught at the back and drifted into a chapel train.

The attendants wore empire style gowns of canary yellow with applique of yellow and green flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Mississippi State College for Women, where she majored in physical education.

The groom received his Bachelor of Architecture degree from UC, Berkeley, and is presently officer in charge of construction at the U.S. Naval Communication Station in Londonderry, Ireland.

After a reception at the Twin Cities Hotel, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in southern Ireland. They are now at home in Londonderry in northern Ireland.

Here's help for women who are in the dark about fuses, switches and lights.

The easiest way to deal with an electrical failure is to prepare for it. Keep a flashlight and fresh fuses handy. Know where your main switch and branch circuit panel are.

Is a fuse blown?

If only one or two rooms go out, a fuse has blown or a circuit breaker has opened. If service fails in a large part of the house, it's probably a "main" fuse or circuit breaker. If the neighbors' lights are out, too, call us.

Check the fuse box.

First, disconnect frayed cords and appliances on one outlet. Then replace any fuse in branch circuit panel ("fuse box") that has a smoked-up window or melted metal strip inside. Always replace a fuse with one of the same size. If you have circuit breakers ("on" and "off" switches) follow the instructions on the switch or panel.

Check the main switch.

If your lights are still off, check your main switch. If it's the fuse or cartridge type, the switch should be turned off before one is replaced. If your electricity is still off, call us. Or—if you have any doubts about the problem or the solution, give us a call.

Helpful tips.

If your electricity is off for any period, don't open your refrigerator or freezer. Frozen foods stay frozen longer if the freezer door is kept closed. If food starts to thaw, add dry ice. And don't forget: when electric service is restored, reset your electric clocks.

PG&E is ready to help.

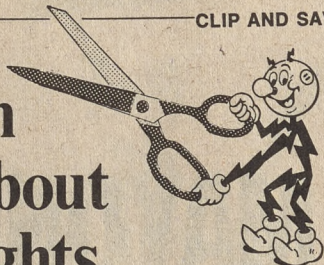

If you have repeated fuse problems consult an electrical contractor. If you can't restore power for any reason, call us and we'll send a serviceman.

Our most important job

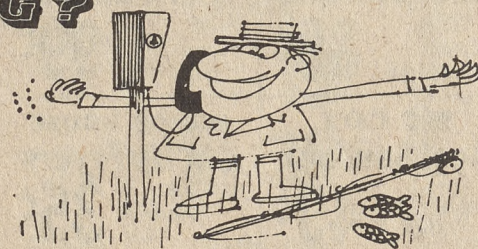

Providing reliable gas and electric service at the lowest possible rates is our most important job. There have been six rate reductions in gas and electric rates in the past four years. This makes PG&E service a bigger family bargain than ever.

WHAT'S DOING?

What do you do when your phone gets out of whack on a Saturday night? This can certainly be a serious problem—particularly if someone in your family is ill or you are expecting an important call. Should this happen to you, we're always there to help. Just call us at Repair Service. You'll find the number listed in the front pages of your telephone book.

Whether it's Saturday night or a holiday, if it's an emergency to you, it's an emergency to us. If there's trouble on the line, we may be able to fix it without sending a repairman out. But if necessary, he'll be out to get your phone working again.

If immediate repairs are not required, we'll fix the phone on our next regular workday. And of course, we never charge you for this service.

Telephone customers on the Monterey Peninsula should now be using the new phone numbers for information and repair service. The numbers (411) for information and (611) for repair service took effect Sunday July 23. The numbers are for subscribers in Monterey, Carmel, Carmel Valley, Seaside, Marina, Pacific Grove, Del Rey Oaks, Sand City.

Will you help Smokey the Bear this summer? During the dry months ahead be extra careful with campfires, matches, and smoking. As Smokey says: "Only you can prevent forest fires."

It's a well-known fact that whenever you want to buy something, rent something, or have something fixed, you'll find it fast in the yellow pages. But there's one man in New York who has found a new use for the yellow pages—he's eating his way through them. To this date he has covered half of the restaurants in Manhattan. And, at his present pace he will visit his last restaurant in 1980 at a cost of $50,000! Might I suggest he then try all the reducing salons?

Carolyn Angell and Johnny Crowell wed

St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church was the setting for the afternoon wedding of Carolyn Elizabeth Angell to Johnny Glen Crowell on Saturday, July 15. Carolyn is the daughter of Ruth and Bob Angell, of Rancho Tierra Grande, and Johnny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyn Crowell of Monterey. Rev. Peter Farmer performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladiola and shasta daisies. A reception at Carmel Valley Inn followed the wedding.

Carolyn wore a gold heirloom bracelet that belonged to her great-grandmother and had been a gift to Carolyn's mother on her wedding day, and a gold chain and cross, a gift from the groom.

Her gown was of white organza styled in a full A skirt. The empire bodice and front panel were fashioned of Chantilly lace and a chapel train fell from a self-fabric bow. A three point lace headpiece dotted with pearls and organza roses caught the illusion veil.

Matron of honor was Mrs. David May (the former Sally Rial) of San Francisco. Bridesmaids were Miss Holly Hagan of Carmel Valley and Mrs. Terry Kelsey of Castro Valley. All wore matching dresses of golden silk shantung and carried cascading bouquets of yellow daisies and ivy.

Wesley Crowell, brother of the groom, served as best man. Donald Kirby and John Guzzetta, both of San Jose, were ushers.

Ruth Angell, the bride's mother, wore a blue and gold brocade ensemble with matching accessories and the groom's mother wore pink silk linen. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Carolyn is a graduate of Carmel High School, MPC and is currently attending California State College at Hayward where she is a senior, majoring in English.

Johnny is a graduate of Monterey High School, MPC and is also attending California State College where he is in his senior year of pre-law. The newlyweds will live in Castro Valley.

For her wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, Carolyn chose a blue and white linen print dress accented with a corsage of white orchids.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. H.W. Crowell, the groom's grandmother, of Sierra Madre, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Young, aunt and uncle of the groom, from Long Beach, and Mrs. Ruth Brown, aunt of the groom, from St. Helena. Others arriving from out-of-town were Col. and Mrs. Dallas Pack of Novato, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Springfield of Fresno. Coming from San Jose were Timothy Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Solusky, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'-

Donnell. San Francisco guests were John Jensen and Dr. and Mrs. Otto Schwalb.

Aviation buffs to attend MPA dinner

The Monterey Peninsula Airmans Association will hold a meeting July 27 at the Italian Villa Restaurant in Salinas.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Frank Shropshire, who is also a member of the Ninety-Nines (a women pilot organization) a special program has been scheduled.

Members of the Ninety-Nines and their husbands will attend and all persons interested in aviation are welcome.

Films on hypoxia, trapped and evolved cases, decompression sickness in flight, and pilot vertigo will be shown. In view of the length of the program, President Warren Knapp of Carmel will minimize or eliminate the business meeting.

Salinas member James Baker has made arrangements and a social hour will start at 7 p.m. followed by dinner and the program.

St. Philip's plans vacation school

St. Philip's Lutheran Church of Carmel Valley is planning a Vacation Church School for the week of Aug. 14-18. The program will be based on the theme, "Living in God's Kingdom," and will include Bible stories, singing, crafts, and recreation. All are welcome to attend.

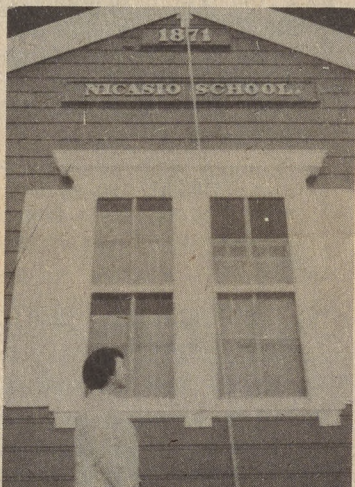

Classes are scheduled for children who have just completed first grade, through the seventh grade. Sessions will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m. daily during that week. It is requested that children bring a sack lunch. Beverage will be provided by the church.

Registration should be made before Aug. 6 by calling 624-8629 or 624-5531. The registration fee of $2.00, payable at the opening session, will cover the cost of pupil activity books and craft materials.

St. Philip's Lutheran Church is located on Carmel Valley Rd. near Schulte Rd.

Nancy Strathmeyer cites CVPOA's master plan in Marin County talk

Carmel Valley realtor Nancy Strathmeyer recently spoke to the Nicasio Valley Property Owners' Association in Marin County.

Appearing at the invitation of staff of the Advance Planning Division of the Marin County Planning Department, Nancy spoke of the efforts of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association in developing the Valley Master Plan and retaining the rural beauty of the area.

The meeting was held at the historic old Nicasio School which has been preserved as a California State monument.

Located west of San Rafael, on the Pacific Ocean side of Marin County north-south ridge, Nicasio's topography is very similar to that of Carmel Valley.

Nancy spoke of the CVPOA's experience and problems in developing the master plan, studying the road, and hiring of professional planners.

The Nicasio plan will also include study on the needs for controlled commercial development, design control, underground utilities and a scientific ecological study of replacement landscaping in native plants so that unsightly cuts and fills will be minimized and erosion can be more effectively controlled.

Nancy is currently serving as chairman of the Carmel Board of Realtors Community Planning Committee.
